

Schedule

Saturday, 14 December (Online Only)

All times are listed in GMT.

11:30	Introductions – Saeed Khan
11:45	PANEL ONE: Global Policies of Silencing and Suppression – chaired by Saeed Khan Keynote: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Anne Norton Panel discussion: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Imam Dawud Walid - Sandew Hira
13:00	Q&A
13:30	Break
13:45	PANEL TWO: Institutional Silencing in Sociopolitical Contexts – chaired Seyfeddin Kara Keynotes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - David Miller - Tasneem Chopra
14:25	Panel Discussion: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Revd. Stephen Sizer - Richard Haley
15:00	Q&A

15:30	Summary – Saeed Khan

Sunday, 15 December (In-person and online)

All times are listed in GMT.

10:30	Registration and refreshments
11:30	Qur'an & Translation Introductions – Saeed Khan
11:45	PANEL THREE: The Culture Paradox of Muslim Representation on Social Media – chaired by Kaneez Hisbani Keynote: - Ilan Pappé Panel Discussion: 12:25 - Myriam Francois - Malia Bouattia
12:55	Q&A
13:30	Lunch
14:30	PANEL FOUR: Pathways Forward: Strategies to Reclaim Civil Rights in Liberal Democracies – chaired by Saeed Khan Keynotes: - Laurens De Rooij - Sadek Hamid Panel Discussion: 15:05 - Asa Winstanley - Ramón Grosfoguel

15:35	Q&A
16:10	Summary – Raza Kazim Vote of Thanks – Massoud Shadjareh

Speakers' Bios

Malia Bouattia is the former president of National Union of Students, co-founder of Students Not Suspects / Educators Not Informants, presenter on Women Like Us on British Muslim TV and currently writes for The New Arab, Middle East Eye, Al Jazeera and others as a journalist.

Tasneem Chopra is an experienced Cross Cultural Consultant and Diversity, Equity & Inclusion (DE&I) trainer helping business, not-for-profits and government understand and navigate diversity and inclusion using an intersectional lens. She helps workspaces and leadership become progressive in the areas of diversity, equity and inclusivity, so they can communicate, work and lead across different cultures for better innovation and profitability.

As a media presenter, Tasneem provides an expert perspective on topics related to diversity, gender-based violence female and women of colour representation, social cohesion, social justice issues and equity. She has spoken at national and international events including International Women's Day, Harmony Day, conferences, festivals, panels and at schools. Tasneem has a background in Psychology and Sociology from Swinburne University, and a Masters in International Development from La Trobe University.

Dr Laurens de Rooij is an associate lecturer in the sociology of Islam at Al-Mahdi Institute. Dr Laurens gained his doctorate at Durham University in England. His research examines how non-Muslim people (mainly in Europe) interact with Islam and Muslims and how that affects their interpretation and conceptualization of Islam and Muslims, as well as any subsequent interactions. This is approached from an interdisciplinary perspective that discusses the issue of media reports about Muslims and Islam whilst drawing upon areas such as hermeneutics, media studies, philosophy of identity, post-colonial theory, sociology, and religious studies. His research hopes to garner a greater understanding into the way that non-Muslim individuals understand and interpret Islam, as well as the effect say a media report can have on that understanding, and the way people interact with Muslims on a daily basis.

Laurens has spent time at a number of institutions across the globe, these include: The Graduate School of the Syarif Hidayatullah State Islamic University in Jakarta, Indonesia (spring 2013), the Religion Department at Duke University in Durham North Carolina, USA (Autumn 2013), The Centre for Religion, Media and Culture in the Journalism & Mass Communication Department at the University of Colorado in Boulder, Colorado, USA (spring 2014), and at Brazil's Fundação Joaquim Nabuco (summer 2016). In 2017, he was a post-doctoral research fellow at the University of Cape Town for a year, where his research analyses how the media discourse on minorities (particularly Muslims and Islam) affects how they are conceptualized, understood, and treated in South Africa. This work was supported in part by the National Research Foundation of South Africa. He was also a lecturer at the University of Chester (2018), and a researcher at London Metropolitan University (2018-2020), Toulouse School of Management (2021-2022) in France, and Mahidol University in Bangkok, Thailand (2022-2023).

He is also committed to the excellence in teaching and enjoys working with students at all levels of study and sharing in their interests. This work has been supported by completing Durham's

Learning and Teaching Award (DULTA) in 2014 and recognised by becoming a Fellow of the UK's Higher Education Academy in 2016.

Dr Myriam Francois is a journalist, filmmaker and writer. Myriam is a former Research Associate at the Centre of Islamic Studies (CIS) at SOAS University. She completed her PhD (DPhil) at Oxford University, focusing on Islamic movements in Morocco in 2017. She holds an MA from Georgetown University (USA) and a BA from Cambridge university (UK).

She was nominated as part of the “40 under 40” European Young Leaders (EYLs) class of 2017. Myriam was awarded ‘Woman in Media Award’ at the Muslim Women Awards 2021.

Ramón Grosfoguel is an Emeritus professor from the Department of Ethnic Studies at UC-Berkeley. He has published many books and articles on the Political-Economy of the World-System and the Decolonization of Knowledge and Power.

Dr Sadek Hamid is the Head of Research and UKIM and a Research Fellow at the University of Wales Trinity Saint David. He has previously held teaching and research positions at the universities of Chester, Liverpool Hope and Oxford Centre for Islamic Studies. He has written extensively on British Muslims, young people, Islamic activism and public policy. He is author of Sufis, Salafis and Islamists: The Contested Ground of British Islamic Activism, (I. B. Tauris, 2016), co-author of British Muslims: New Directions in Islamic Thought, Creativity and Activism, (Edinburgh University Press, 2018), editor of Young British Muslims: Between Rhetoric and Realities (Routledge, 2016), co-editor of Youth Work and Islam: A Leap of Faith for Young People (Sense, 2011) and Political Muslims: Understanding Youth Resistance in a Global Context (Syracuse University Press, 2018).

Richard Haley is a writer and activist based in Edinburgh, Scotland. He is a spokesperson for Scotland Against Criminalising Communities (SACC).

Sandew Hira, penname of Dew Baboeram, is secretary of the Decolonial International Network Foundation (DIN). Hira studied economics at the Erasmus University Rotterdam in Holland. He has written 25 books on different topics among them colonial history. Download his CV is here. Follow Sandew Hira via his website: www.sandewhira.com.

Kaneez Hisbani is the Research Assistant at the Islamic Human Rights Commissions and is the Operations Lead for the Ahlulbayt Sisters Association. She is currently pursuing a Masters in International Politics and Human Rights with a focus on Decoloniality and Migrant Rights. Kaneez has acquired extensive experience in volunteering with youth and student-based organisations and sits on the planning committee of the annual Sister Convention. Previously serving as the Social Media Manager for Absoc Sisters, Kaneez utilises her experience to host workshops and events about social media for Muslims.

Seyfeddin Kara is an Assistant Professor at the University of Groningen. He previously held the position of Marie Skłodowska-Curie Global Fellow at The University of Toronto and Lund University. He obtained his PhD in Islamic Studies from the University of Durham, UK. He has contributed to various research articles in respected journals. Seyfeddin authored In Search of Ali ibn Abi Talib's Codex: History and Traditions of the Earliest Copy of the Qur'an.

Saeed A. Khan is is Senior Lecturer Near East & Asian and Global Studies at Wayne State University, as well as Research Fellow at its Center for the Study of Citizenship and Honorary Fellow at Australian Catholic University. He is also Cofounder and Senior Fellow at the Institute for Social Policy & Understanding. He is a regular panelist on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's Turning Point, as well as a regular contributor to news outlets like the BBC, Veja, Quartz and Time Magazine.

David Miller is a non-resident Senior Research Fellow at the Centre for Islam and Global Affairs at Istanbul Zaim University and a former Professor of Political Sociology at the University of Bristol. He is a broadcaster, writer and investigative researcher; the producer of the weekly show Palestine Declassified on PressTV; and the co-director of Public Interest Investigations, of which spinwatch.org and powerbase.info are projects. His recent work has been published in Mintpress, Mayadeen English, Electronic Intifada, Grayzone, PressTV, IRNA and TRT World. He tweets @Tracking_Power.

Anne Norton is the Stacey and Henry Jackson President's Distinguished Professor at the University of Pennsylvania. She is the author of seven books, including Leo Strauss and the Politics of American Empire, 95 Theses on Politics, Culture, and Method, On the Muslim Question, and Wild Democracy.

Ilan Pappé is a professor at the University of Exeter. He was formerly a senior lecturer in political science at the University of Haifa. He is the author of The Ethnic Cleansing of Palestine, The Modern Middle East, A History of Modern Palestine: One Land, Two Peoples, and Ten Myths about Israel. Pappé is described as one of Israel's 'New Historians' who, since the release of pertinent British and Israeli government documents in the early 1980s, have been rewriting the history of Israel's creation in 1948.

Revd Dr Stephen Sizer is the founder and director of Peacemaker Trust, a registered charity dedicated to peacemaking, especially where minorities are persecuted, justice is denied, human rights are suppressed, or reconciliation is needed.

Stephen served for 35 years as an Anglican priest, most recently vicar of Virginia Water until his retirement in 2017. He is now Bishop's Chaplain to the Right Revd Riah Abu El Assal, the retired Anglican Bishop in Jerusalem. Stephen is chair of the Convivencia Alliance, a cross-faith, international initiative for a just peace in the Middle East, and in particular, a just coexistence in Palestine/Israel based on equal rights in One Democratic State (ODS). Stephen is coordinator for the 2024 Sabeel International Conference on Religious Extremism. Stephen is also a member of the Kairos for Global Justice Theology Group.

Stephen is on the steering committee of Campaign. Campaign exposes misrepresentation in public affairs and the news media. Campaign is not politically aligned, and opposes misrepresentation on principle, and regardless of who is being targeted. Stephen was awarded an MTh from Oxford University in 1994. His thesis examined the Ethical Management of Pilgrimages to the Holy Land. In 2004, he was awarded a PhD by Middlesex University. His thesis examined the historical roots, theological basis and political consequences of Christian Zionism in Britain and the USA from 1820. In 2024 he received the 'Courage Award' for his campaigning for Palestinian rights from Mardin Atuklu University in Turkey.

He is the author of three books, In the Footsteps of Jesus and the Apostles, (Eagle, 2004) Christian Zionism: Roadmap to Armageddon (IVP, 2004) and Zion's Christian Soldiers: The Bible, Israel and the Church (IVP, 2007) – now published by Wipf & Stock. His books have been translated into Arabic, Farsi, Korean and Spanish.

Imam Dawud Walid is currently the Executive Director of the Michigan chapter of the Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR-MI), member of the Imams Council of Michigan, and a Senior Fellow at Auburn Seminary based in New York. Walid has studied under qualified scholars the disciplines of Arabic grammar and morphology, foundations of Islamic jurisprudence, comparative Islamic jurisprudence, and sciences of the exegesis of the Qur'an. He previously served as an imam at Masjid Wali Muhammad in Detroit and the Bosnian American Islamic Center in Hamtramck, Michigan, and board president of Al-Ikhlās Training Academy. He is the author of the books Towards Sacred Activism, Blackness and Islam, and Futuwwah and Raising Males into Sacred Manhood, and co-author of the books Centering Black Narrative: Black Muslim Nobles Among the Early Pious Muslims and Centering Black Narrative: Ahl al-Bayt, Blackness & Africa as well as author of essays in the 2012 book All-American: 45 American Men on Being Muslim and the 2014 book Qur'an in Conversation and author of the foreword to the book The Spirits of Black Folk: Sages Through the Ages.

Asa Winstanley is an investigative journalist and author who writes primarily about Palestine and the Israel lobby. He lives in London.

He is an associate editor with The Electronic Intifada, the world's leading Palestine news site in the English language. He is co-host of The Electronic Intifada Podcast.

Originally from south Wales, Asa Winstanley began visiting Palestine at the end of 2004, volunteering with the human rights defenders of the International Solidarity Movement. He ended up working in the occupied West Bank until 2007 and has returned many times since.

Media coordinator for the ISM, he later wrote for the Palestine Times, the first Palestinian English-language daily newspaper published in the occupied West Bank.

He has written for The Electronic Intifada since 2009 and has been an associate editor since 2012. He is the author of Weaponising Anti-Semitism: How the Israel Lobby Brought Down Jeremy

Corbyn (OR Books, May 2023). He is regularly invited onto podcasts and YouTube channels to talk about Palestine, the Israel lobby and geopolitics.

Appearances have included BreakThrough News, The Chris Hedges Report, Danny Haiphong, The Katie Halper Show, By Any Means Necessary, The East is a Podcast, Unauthorized Disclosure, Ben Norton, Not the Andrew Marr Show and Palestine Declassified. He has written for many other publications over the years, including Declassified UK, Middle East Monitor, Middle East Eye, The National, and Jacobin.

He is a member of the National Union of Journalists.